WETASKIWIN EXTENDED HEARTIEST WELCOME TO GOV.-GENERAL AND PARTY

Vice-Regal Party Spend Two Busy Hours Here and were Delighted With Reception Accorded Them

Despite the inclement weather, hundreds of the citizens of Wetaskiwin and community far and near, turned out Tuesday morning to pay a truly western welcome to Their Excellencies, the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, Countess Bessborough, and party. Immediately upon the arrival of the Vice-Regal train at 10 o'clock prompt, His Excellency was greeted by Mayor J. W. Somers, who introduced him to the Aldermen and city officials, on the steps of the platform, while Mrs. Somers introduced Her Excellency, Countess Bessborough. After inspecting the Guard of Honor, the distinguished visitors were driven to the Court House, where the official welcome was read to His Excellency by His Worship Mayor Somers, from an embellished scroll as follows:

To His Excellency the Right Honourable the Earl of Bessborough, P.C., G.C.M.G., May it please Your Excellency: on behalf of our fellow citizens we, the Mayor and Aldermen of the Corporation of the City of Wetaskiwin, respectfully offer to you and to the members of the Royal Family.

On this your official visit to our City we extend a sincere and cordial welcome to Your Excellency, whose distinguished services to the Empire in Gallipoli in 1915 and in France during the war from 1916 to 1918 we recall with a deep sense of gratitude and admiration. We welcome also most heartily Her Excellency the Countess of Bessborough as a member of that traditional and historic French nobility with which the early history of this great Dominion is so closely intertwined.

Your Excellency has known war. We welcome you to the Hills of Peace and to the City of Peace and Good Will which the Indian word Wetaskiwin signifies. We crave Your Excellency's indulgence to state that the district of Wetaskiwin is a highly favoured part of the Province of Alberta. The farmers of this district, adding industry and the study of good farming methods to the advantages of fertile soil and favourable climate have succeeded in gaining premier awards for high-grade stock and grains at various world fairs. We regret that your brief stay precludes our having the great pleasure and privilege of showing you some of these prize-winning farms.

Again assuring Your Excellencies of our profound sense of gratitude for the great honour which you have conferred upon us by this official visit to the City of Wetaskiwin, we would respectfully remain Your Excellencies' most obedient servants.

Signed by Mayor and Council. His Excellency replied to the address of welcome very appropriately, as follows:

Mr. Mayor: As the representative of the King in Canada, I thank you and the citizens of Wetaskiwin most sincerely for the sentiments of loyalty and devotion to the Throne expressed in your address.

I thank you also, on Lady Bessborough's behalf and in my own, for the kind welcome you have given us personally today. We appreciate highly your friendly references to ourselves, and the cordial reception that accompanies them.

I am much interested to hear the derivation of the name which your City bears. I trust that it may always continue to be a City of Peace, and more than that, that it may be a City of Prosperity. Surrounded as it is by the fertile lands of Alberta, it should certainly be able to maintain its high reputation in the farming world.

It is a great pleasure to us both to meet you all here today and to regret that it is not possible for us to remain longer in your midst.

Immediately following the reply, Little Joan Baker, daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Baker, presented Her Excellency with a beautiful bouquet of roses, on behalf of Peace Hill Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The Court House was artistically decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion, and the grounds of the Court House were filled with citizens, packed behind a large number of veterans, militia, old timers, Boy Scouts and Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies and members of the I.O.D.E. and Red Cross Societies.

Following the address of welcome, the Governor-General walked among the veterans, shaking hands with each one and had brief conversations with several. He also inspected the Boy Scouts and Cubs, and complimented them upon their smart appearance. At the same time Her Excellency inspected the Girl Guides, Brownies, and conversed very congenially with the members of the I.O.D.E. and Red Cross Societies.

The veterans were under command of C. S. Bear, president of the Wetaskiwin unit of the Canadian Legion. Boy Scouts were headed by Scoutmaster T. A. Palfrey and Assistant Scoutmaster Arthur McArthur. Captain M. Baker commanded the Girl Guide unit, and the Brownies were headed by Lieut. H. M. Robinson. There were 74 students from the country schools and 508 from city schools in the welcoming band of children. His Excellency expressed particular pleasure in meeting again the assistant Scoutmaster, Arthur McArthur who had been one of the Scouts in attendance at the Ottawa Conference, and who had for two days been stationed at the Earl of Bessborough's home as guard of honor.

His Excellency made Indian Chief The distinguished visitors were then taken by auto to the Cairn north of the city, where in 1868 the Cree and Blackfoot Indians signed their Treaty of Peace. Mayor Somers briefly referred to the loyalty of the Indians, and to the secret ceremony of conferring the rank of Chief on a distinguished citizen. He then introduced Col. R. H. Palmer, Indian agent of Hobbema, who took charge of the ceremony. Col. Palmer also referred to the loyalty of the Indians, and many of whom had served overseas and had not returned.

"I am afraid that you will find your new title almost unpronounceable, but I can assure you that it means something tall, big and something we look up to. The Indians have recognized that the many virtues which have enabled you to reach your present high position have obligated the need for trial so there will be no need for Your Excellency to torture yourself to assure them that you are worthy of the title which they will confer upon you. If you consent to become an Indian chief, these loyal Indians will now confer the title upon you."

Lord Bessborough nodded assent, and Chief Sam Mende took charge of the ceremonies, solemnly invoking the Cree words that made His Excellency "Okemow Mesow Minehik" or Big Chief Big Pine. Through interpreter John White, the words of greeting and assurance of loyalty were conveyed to the new chief and Chief Sam Mende reached up, removed His Excellency's black derby, and placed upon his head the feathered headdress that went with his new title.

His Excellency then expressed his gratification with the honor conferred upon him, stating, "I am very glad to meet the Indians of the Hobbema Reserve and of the Hills of Peace. I am sorry that the sun does not shine upon us today. But I hope the sun will shine for you in the future. I deem it a great privilege to become Chief Big Pine. I will always preserve the head-dress which you have given me as a reminder of this auspicious occasion. I know that the Indians were always loyal to their Chiefs. I know also that they are loyal to His Majesty the King. I will be pleased to inform the King of their loyalty to himself. Though the King lives far from here he is always mindful of the welfare of his peoples. And he is very interested in the welfare of his Indian subjects in this Dominion. I am very pleased to meet you all and I wish you all good fortune and prosperity in the future."

The Indians were then presented each with a tri-color-wrapped package of tobacco by His Excellency. The Indians, in addition to Chief Mende, (Continued on Page 5)

Short History of Hospitalization in Wetaskiwin

The first attempt at hospitalization was sponsored by some of our Scandinavian people, among whom were the late Claus Swanson, S. A. Anderson, C. E. Johnson and Thomas Torsen.

They secured a house on the east side of the track and opened up the Scandinavian Hospital in 1904. The City of Wetaskiwin took over this hospital in 1909 and operated it as a city hospital. It was later on moved to a location on Court House avenue. The accommodation was limited. Maternity cases were not provided for. The hospital was started by Dr. Dixon in 1912. In 1922 the hospital was moved to the building on Railway Street West, formerly known as the Prince of Wales Hotel. In 1924 the Municipality of Montgomery and Bigstone associated themselves with Wetaskiwin and have since assisted in the operation of The Wetaskiwin Hospital.

An attempt was made in 1930 to establish a Municipal Hospital District, but owing to apparent unequal taxation the scheme failed. An effort was then made to establish a Community Hospital with Wetaskiwin, Montgomery and Bigstone. Unfortunately, Bigstone failed to support the plan. It was tried again, this time successfully with Montgomery and Wetaskiwin alone.

The Legislature of Alberta passed a special act at the session of 1932 and The Wetaskiwin Community Hospital became possible.

According to the terms of the agreement, a Board of seven members was appointed, four from Montgomery and three from Wetaskiwin. This Board selected Messrs. Macdonald & Magoon, of Edmonton, Architects and after selecting the site, awarded the contract for the building to Messrs. Nesbitt & Son, of Edmonton.

Good progress has been made with the building and it is hoped we may be able to occupy it by the middle of October.

Brief History of Wetaskiwin and Surrounding District

The following is a copy of the historical sketch prepared by Col. Godfrey Baker to be included in the articles deposited in the corner stone in the New Community Hospital:

The origin of the name given this City and district was the location just east of a prominent hill, which according to Indian legend, was the spot where, about the year 1867 a lasting treaty of peace was made between the Indians of the tribes of the Blackfeet and Cree. This hill was named by these tribes "Wetaskiwin Spatinow" (the place where peace was made). When the Calgary-Edmonton railroad was built in 1891, a townsite known as No. 16 north of Calgary, was located here, which in the spring was redesignated by the name Wetaskiwin.

About this time some settlers of Swedish extraction located in the New Sweden district, a few miles east of the city, and some Norwegian settlers came to the Crooked Lake district some miles northeast of the city. Both of these settlements used this point for communication purposes, and soon the intervening country was settled. Between the years 1900 and 1910 a large influx of settlers came from the United States, a great number of them were of German origin, some purchased land from the earlier settlers and are now found among and between the Scandinavian settlers, while a large number homesteaded in the country west of Wetaskiwin where now that nationality predominates.

The first Post Office was opened in Wetaskiwin in 1893 with J. Z. C. Mignelson as postmaster. About the year 1911 the present building on Pearce Street was completed, which since then has housed the different Federal offices that have been located here.

The growth of the town of Wetaskiwin was very rapid, because the district that surrounds it was of such a rich nature for farming purposes that it settled very quickly, making this the trading point for a very large area. A charter of incorporation as a city was granted in the year 1906 by Special Act of the Legislature. Since that time however, railroad communication has been built on all sides and today the area of the district served by the City is much curtailed.

To offset this the mixed type of farming practised by the farmers ensures a steady income, and although as the present time prices of all commodities produced on the farms are very low, business conditions here are far away ahead of most points of a similar nature. One thing that strikes the observer most when travelling through the district is the splendid homes and buildings that the farmers have built for themselves. It is questionable whether in the three Western Provinces any one district could equal the average home-stands of this district. It is certain that no one district could beat it. Coupled with the home building has been the road building, although these are built of dirt, they are well built and drained, with the result that communication by automobile can be continued on the main roads practically all the year round. One great advantage to the district and city is the fact that two gravelled highways meet at this point, the Calgary-Edmonton highway, running north and south and the Camrose-Pigeon Lake highway running east and west.

The main crops grown in the district are wheat, oats and barley. Most of the wheat is exported, although there is a very flourishing flour mill here, whose product holds a high reputation in the milling world. The oats and barley are mainly grown for feed purposes, the district having a very fine reputation for the quality of the cattle, hogs and sheep raised.

In both the grain and cattle production many farmers specialize, and many of the herds and much of the grain raised are known and in demand all over the farming parts of the Dominion and in some cases the North American Continent.

The general standard of living, as evidenced by the reference to the homes above is high, and the general community spirit is very progressive, better evidence of this cannot be made than by the building on the corner stone behind which these documents are to be placed. This is a monument to the goodwill and co-operation which is always in evidence between the country and the city peoples. Other evidence may be

Corner Stone of New Wetaskiwin Community Hospital Laid. War Memorial Unveiled. Reception

From the Cairn the party hastened to the new Wetaskiwin Community Hospital, where His Excellency laid the cornerstone. Mayor Somers referred to the station, stating: "We are gathered here for the purpose of laying the foundation stone of the new Wetaskiwin Hospital. This building will play a very important part in our civic lives and I call upon Alderman A. A. Ellis, chairman of the Hospital Board to address you upon this building. For 35 years Mr. Ellis has interested himself in the subject of a hospital for this district."

Mr. Ellis addressed the large crowd assembled as follows: "Your Excellencies, Mr. Mayor, Honored Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen: It is with a feeling of pride, justifiable pride of accomplishment in these difficult times, that we have assembled here today to witness the laying of the corner stone of our new Community Hospital. And we are deeply gratified that Your Excellency, our Governor-General, has honored us by accepting our invitation to perform the ceremony. It is a notable day in the history of Wetaskiwin and we feel greatly honored by his visit."

I am sure that it affords every citizen of this City and District, as it does the members of our Board, the greatest satisfaction to know that we are at last on the eve of opening a well equipped and modern hospital to serve the needs of our community. For many years, we have struggled along with makeshift and inadequate accommodation, but now, with the opening of this new building, we will be thoroughly equipped to render efficient service to everyone requiring hospital treatment.

Your Excellency, we have been able to provide you with a mason's helper, Mr. Richard Hawkins, who is an old time stone mason. One who worked with stone long before the days of Portland Cement. Mr. Hawkins helped in the building of the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa. He also laid the cornerstone of the Ottawa Protestant Hospital. Mr. Hawkins is a veteran of the Fenian Raids for which he wears a medal presented by Lord Willingdon.

The corner stone was then put in place and declared well and truly laid by His Excellency, who was after the ceremony presented with the towel which had the following engraving thereon:

"Presented to His Excellency the Right Honourable the Earl of Bessborough, P.C., G.C.M.G., Governor-General of Canada, on the occasion of his laying the corner stone of the Wetaskiwin Community Hospital, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, 20th September, A.D. 1932."

Rev. Fr. L. C. Walravens was then called upon to offer the prayer of dedication, which completed the ceremony at the hospital.

The last ceremony at which His Excellency was requested to officiate took place at the Cross of Sacrifice which is being erected in the new park and sponsored by Wetaskiwin Post Canadian Legion.

His Worship stated that His Excellency was there for the purpose of unveiling the monument in memory of those who fell in the Great War, and called upon Comrade C. S. Bear for a few remarks. Mr. Bear stated that the erection of the Memorial was sponsored by the Wetaskiwin Post Canadian Legion, and was made possible by the hearty co-operation of citizens not only of Wetaskiwin, but also of the surrounding community.

Different organizations and school children had also helped materially. As President of the local Post, and on behalf of relatives of those who well the supreme sacrifice, as well as those at home, he sincerely thanked them for their assistance in obtaining their objective, and he hoped that the people of the coming generations will pause and realize the cause of the monument. He hoped that the memorial would not be looked upon as a memorial of war, but rather a memorial of peace. He concluded with Disraeli's remarks, "Peace with Honor."

His Excellency then drew aside the flag that veiled the cross and showed the inscription: "To the memory of those who died for King and Country in the Great War, 1914-1918." Rev. A. MacD. Trendell offered the dedicatory prayer, and the Last Post was sounded by Robert Hodson. This was followed by two minutes silence. Then Reveille and the depositing of a wreath at the foot of the cross, by Comrade W. J. Burroughs, in memory of the gallant dead.

Their Excellencies Meet Citizens Following the unveiling of the Cross, a public reception was held, when Their Excellencies met and shook hands with a large number of citizens who were presented to them by H. J. Montgomery, M.L.A.

After the reception, which took place near the Cross of Sacrifice, the Vice-Regal party were conveyed to their special train, and departed on their journey promptly at 12 o'clock. Hundreds of citizens crowded the platform to cheer them on their way. These expressions of goodwill were acknowledged by both the Earl and Countess Bessborough, who waved goodbye from the rear platform of their car.

Visitors Entertained After the departure of Their Excellencies' special train, Hon. W. L. Walsh, Lieut. Governor of Alberta, and Mrs. Walsh, Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, Mrs. Brownlee, Mr. D. K. Knott, Mayor of Edmonton, and Mrs. Knott, Mr. and Mrs. John Imrie and several other distinguished visitors were entertained by Mayor Somers and the Aldermen to an informal luncheon in the Drift Hotel. Brief addresses were given by His Honor W. L. Walsh, Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Mr. Imrie and Mayor Knott, all of whom congratulated the City upon the excellent manner in which the reception to Their Excellencies was carried out.

REPORT OF DISTRICT CONVENTION GIVEN AT KIWANIS CLUB

At the weekly luncheon of the Wetaskiwin Kiwanis Club on Tuesday evening, a report of the convention held by the Western Canada district at the National Park north of Prince Albert, was given by President V. C. French. He stated that the convention was very successful and that the reports from all the Clubs in the district showed that good work was being done by Kiwanians throughout Western Canada. The social side of the convention was well looked after and all the delegates had an enjoyable outing.

Damp, Tough Grain May Be Dried Without Damage

Canada need not again suffer the losses sustained when the percentage of tough and damp grain in the crops of 1925 to 1928 reached unprecedented heights ranging from 25.6 to 50.8 and the cash deductions to Canadian farmers totaled millions of dollars. Artificial drying of wheat was one of the first problems to which the National Research Council's Associate Committee on Grain Research set its hand. In 1929 a report was issued which set out the conditions of correct artificial drying that practically all causes of complaint against Canadian grain on the score of damage incurred during drying were removed. There has now been issued a comprehensive document of 104 printed pages, which confirms the specifications laid down in the first report, clears up a number of additional points and demonstrates what conditions contribute to the efficiency of commercial driers. Damp and tough grain may now be dried without damage to its milling and baking quality.

Included in the present report are discussions of a small-scale experimental drier designed for the study of the limits of safety in drying with regard to air flows, air temperatures and extent of drying in both continuous and batch drying of wheat. Other aspects of the problem discussed are factors in continuous drying, drying in cold weather drying in two stages, drying with humidified air, excessive drying, invisible loss in drying, atmospheric humidity in relation to grain drying, weight per bushel in relation to drying and the nature of injury caused by heat drying. In three important appendices are discussions of observations made in commercial driers in Vancouver with suggestions for improved operation, a review on the literature on the bling of wheat (drying by natural ventilation; drying by forced, unheated air; drying by forced heated air and "sweating") and the influence of heat treatment on the baking behaviour of flour is determined by different baking formulas.

Copies of the appendix containing the review of the literature on the bling of wheat have been made available separately.

In making the investigations involved the committee developed a system of dividing all samples of grain tested into three or four parts and checking the milling and baking results independently in three or four laboratories, using methods which were carefully standardized by frequent consultation and comparison. It was considered important not to draw any far-reaching conclusions which might mean millions of dollars one way or the other to the grain growers and the grain trade, without verifying results in more than one laboratory. The system inaugurated in this, the first large co-operative undertaking of the Associate Committee on Grain Research, has been followed in all later work, and has had the effect of inspiring confidence in published conclusions of the Committee.

Is An Education Worth While?

"Is an education Worth While?" asks the Farmers' Advocate, which "these are perplexing times for parents whose children have arrived at that age when they must make a decision that will influence their careers and determine to a large extent what road they will travel through life. We have passed through a decade when higher education was sought by all and sundry, and when the fruits of learning seemed to be more or less commensurate with the expense and time involved. Now there is a deadly lull and those graduating from colleges and universities this year have had extremely difficulty in securing employment of any kind. The situation is one that one might well stop and consider whether money spent on a college or university education is, after all, a good investment. There are two determining factors—lack of funds and doubt whether the white-collar job is after all worth what it costs. Reasonable and sound as these considerations may be, they are not as important as the ambitions of youth or the secret desires of parents for the success and well being of their offspring. Most boys and girls, by the time they are sufficiently matured to leave home, have certain proclivities fairly well developed and have shown a marked fondness for some particular line of work. We do not believe that economic conditions and life in general have so altered that youth is denied opportunities, or that there will not, in the years to come, be the same scope and freedom for the gifts and talents of the generation then in, as has been enjoyed by all since the world began."

THE MAN GROWING WORLD'S FINEST WHEAT DESERVES GOOD BREAD

Dairy farmers are rightly subject to government inspection to ensure proper cleanliness and hygienic conditions in the production of the milk and butter they sell to the public. Should not the public be equally protected against dirty methods in milling flour?

The Western Canadian Farmer supplies the world with the highest quality wheat. Surely the flour his good wife uses should be milled under perfect conditions from clean, pure wheat.

Robin Hood Mills have led the way in striving to the utmost to reduce their operating costs into line with a new era of low price levels. But they have consistently refused to lower the quality or cleanliness of their products. Furthermore, they believe it to be their duty to bring to light certain startling facts about flour which many people did not know before. So they have courageously borne the expense of a campaign of educational advertising in newspapers and other leading farm journals and weekly newspapers of Western Canada.

Everyone now recognizes the grave dangers to health lurking in the use of cheap, poorly milled flour. People know now that clean, pure flour can only be milled when the wheat is actually washed as in the modern Robin Hood Mills. Who would think of cooking an unwashed potato? The thrifty housewife realizes the importance of making bread that is light, appetizing, wholesome and nutritious. She understands, after a period of experimenting that it is false economy not to use the highest grade of flour. The difference in cost between clean, pure flour and cheap, poorly milled flour is only 1¢ per day for a family of four.

Everyone Seems More Hopeful!

Throughout the world people are feeling better. During the last few weeks world and national developments have everywhere changed gloom into hope and there are indications of the birth of a widespread belief that the turning point of the depression has really come at last. The Lausanne reparations settlement, it is hoped, has prevented an economic and political collapse in the central States of Europe, the apparent success of the huge British war loan conversion (the biggest single piece of financing the world has known to date) has greatly heartened the British people and is already having various beneficial effects, including the direction of investment funds into industrial securities; the big railway consolidation and other developments in the States have cheered American finance and business and caused a rise in security prices, while Canada not only looks hopefully, in common with other members of the Empire family, to the Ottawa Conference, but also to the particularly favorable crop prospects and to the benefits expected to follow the signing of the St. Lawrence waterways treaty. And, of utmost moment to the whole world, commodity prices in recent weeks have exhibited a most encouraging tendency to stabilize and even in some instances, to climb.

A U.F.A. convention will be held in the Orange Hall, Camrose, on Wednesday, September 28th, for the purpose of nominating a U.F.A. candidate to contest the coming bye-election.

"Going Up".

"The Hearts Content", gallant little Puss Moth plane that carried her courageous pilot, Captain J. A. Mollison, on the first East to West solo flight across the Atlantic, went up in new style at Wolf's Cove, Quebec, recently. Obeying the orders of his physician and the request of his backer, Lord Wakefield, Captain Mollison decided to return to England in the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain". The Empress is Captain Mollison waving a greeting to Montreal Light Aeroplane Club pilots who roared past the Empress of Britain in a flying farewell.

COMMUNICATION

[We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—Ed.]

To the Editor.

I noted in your issue of Sept. 1st, an inspired article by an unnamed person who sought to make political capital out of a partisan comparison of election costs in different constituencies. In your last issue, Mr. McCool has so effectively exploded his arguments by merely giving the rest of the truth, that it is not necessary for me to deal with it at all. However, the writer of your article wishes to give us anything further on election costs, may I suggest that he explain why the 1921 election cost $250,000, when in 1926 the present government spent only $130,000 with a larger population and more polls, etc. This is a question really worthy of an explanation, but it is not likely that we shall get it, as it would not make good propaganda for the Liberals.

Again, if your unknown author wishes to tell us something really interesting, let him tell us what became of the $5,280 of the Province's money which was paid to the "Hon." (?) George A. Smith, Liberal Minister of Education on a faked voucher in 1921. Of course, the jury acquitted Mr. Smith of stealing, but the evidence showed that the money was paid to him, and the Province lost it. Where did it go? Did the Liberal Party funds get it? I note that at the Camrose Liberal Convention the other night they passed a resolution commending the Hon. Geo. P. Smith for his "services to Liberalism." If they got the money it was certainly a "service." Your unknown author, with his great apparent zeal for the public welfare, might give us something on this.

Your author is doubtless, as Mr. McCool infers, a Liberal propagandist, whose mind goes back to the "good old days" when the money of the province was handled much less carefully than is the case today. When road money, for instance, was handled by the member with no supervision, and could be handed out freely to political friends. This did not, of course, get the best results in road building, but it was wonderful for vote-getting, and it is hardly to be wondered at if some Wetaskiwin Liberals sigh for the "good old days."

Well, here's hoping that your unnamed author will give us something on the two points I have raised, but I don't think so.

Yours,

NOT ONE CHANCE IN MILLION BROWNLEE WILL GO TO TARIFF BOARD

What's become of this rumor current two or three weeks ago that Premier Brownlee was about to resign and was expected to take the position of chairman of Mr. Bennett's Tariff Board?

If Mr. Brownlee had a dollar for every time a rumor appeared that he was resigning he would be the world's wealthiest man. Provincial Treasurer Reid has overlooked a fertile source of income. Why not tax these rumors? Nearly every thing else is taxed!

There isn't a chance in a million that Mr. Brownlee will be offered a place on the Tariff Board, much less its chairmanship. The Observer believes that Mr. Brownlee, whatever his political plans may be, is of distinctly low tariff views. We wouldn't be surprised if he had a high regard for Free Trade, theoretical of course.

Unless the Scriptures have been completely upset and the leopard has changed his spots and the Ethiopian his skin, Mr. Bennett still regards high tariffs and "adequate" protection with holy awe. The British delegates at the Imperial Conference bluffed our Mr. Bennett into an awkward spot, wherein he had to stand and deliver or blow the Conference up entirely. But if anyone is childish enough to think that Mr. Bennett has retreated from his protectionist viewpoint, he is to be pitied.

The chances that Mr. Bennett with his oft-stated and rigid views of the necessity of high protection, will appoint Mr. Brownlee, a low tariff man, to the Tariff Board, are as remote as planets yet unknown. When the Tariff Board is appointed, it will be comprised of armored protectionists, who will interpret the agreement with Great Britain within the narrowest possible limits.—Vegreville Observer.

INITIALS ON PENCILS

The initials H.B., H.H., B.B., and so on, seen on pencils, indicate the nature of the lead they contain. H stands for hard, meaning the clay; B for black—or soft—meaning the graphite used in the making of lead for pencils. An HB (hard black) pencil is really the standard by which other pencils are graded. Harder pencils will be marked HH, HHH, and so on according to their degree of hardness, while softer pencils will similarly be marked with B's. The more clay there is in the mixture, the harder the pencil.

FALL FLOWERS

Fall may be made quite an active season in the garden, but unlike the spring jobs many of these may be put off until after the winter if the owner so desires. Herbaceous perennials, such as Iris, Delphinium and Phlox, may be divided and re-planted. Shrubs, creepers, rose bushes and trees may be planted. This is also a splendid time to get in grass seed. But all these jobs can also be done in the spring.

Typical fall work consists of cleaning up the garden for another year and of studying the results already achieved in order to improve those of the years ahead. By the middle of August bloom in the average garden, particularly where there are few annuals, begins to fade. This may be corrected by noting what is flowering in the garden next door. Perennial Phlox which may be secured in as great a variety of colors almost as the Iris, is at its best in late August and early September. Second bloom can be secured from the Delphinium, if all the flower bearing stalks are cut right to the bottom after the first bloom in July. Many daisies of varying heights flower in August and September and the hardy Chrysanthemums brighten things in October. But to do the job there must be annuals. With dwarf and medium height Petunias, Marigolds and Calendulas in front, Zinnias, Snapdragons, Asters and Gladioli farther back, and Cosmos, Golden Glow and Dahlias in the rear, until Jack Frost intrudes himself, the September and October garden can be made to rival that of June and July.

Cleaning Up
If it is convenient it is a good thing to gather up all weeds, fading flowers, vegetable tops and similar refuse and pile on a heap where the whole thing in the course of a few weeks to a month or so will rot down into valuable soil.

Troubled With Her Children Having Summer Complaint

Mrs. L. E. Montgomery, Ave. K. South, Saskatoon, Sask., writes: "I am the mother of two children and have a great deal of trouble with them having summer complaint, in fact, several times every Summer they were subject to attacks."

"Thanks to 'Dr. Fowler's' I no longer dread the Summer months."

berry or other flowers will screen the dying leaves during early summer.

Practically all of the fall bulbs can also be planted in pots indoors and they will produce an abundance of bloom from the first of December almost until the flowers are ready outside. Plant in ordinary flower pots or fancy bowls in soil, fibre or pebbles. Do not set nearly as deeply as outside, simply covering the bulb to about the tip. Water well and store in a cold, dark place (temperature from 30 to 50 degrees) until the root system is well developed when they should be removed gradually to full sunlight and a temperature of between sixty and seventy degrees. In the case of Narcissus the cold, dark period will be about six weeks, but from two to three months with hyacinths, daffodils and tulips.

Diabetes

Diabetes is a disease which has been known for many centuries. It is only recently, however, that we have come to understand something of its cause and treatment.

Diabetes is a metabolic disease, which means that it is the result of a disturbance of metabolism or the process by which our bodies extract from the food we eat and the air we breathe the substances required for the repair of tissues and energy.

It is known that this particular disturbance is the result of injury to certain parts of the pancreas (sweet breads). One of the functions of the pancreas is to secrete a substance called insulin. Insulin allows the body tissues to use a sugar (glucose) into which all the sugars and starches which we eat are converted by digestion. It is essential that the body tissues be able to use this sugar, as it is such an important energy food.

In diabetes there is a lack of insulin. The tissues of the body demand sugar for energy, yet, because of the lack of insulin, they are unable to take and use the sugar from the blood stream. The result is that the blood becomes overloaded with sugar which is passed off in the urine. One of the tests for diabetes is the presence of sugar in the urine.

Lack of sugar is the direct cause of diabetes. A predisposing factor which favors the changes in the pancreas, which in turn causes diabetes, is overweight. The continued use of more food than the body requires is the usual cause of overweight—places an undue strain upon the pancreas; injury to that organ may follow, and diabetes develop.

The discovery, in 1921, of a method whereby insulin could be obtained from the pancreas of animals provided a most valuable aid in the treatment of diabetes. Insulin is not, or was it ever claimed to be, a cure for diabetes. With the aid of insulin the diabetic can be properly nourished, and it may be said that no diabetic should die of diabetes.

In the treatment of diabetes, as far as we know today, lies in the avoidance of habitual overeating. Not every case of diabetes occurs in a person of excessive weight, nor does every person who is overweight develop diabetes, but overweight appears to be the common predisposing factor in diabetes.

Avoid overeating as good insurance against diabetes.

APPLES GROWING

AT OLDS SCHOOL

Olds, Sept. 16. — The harvest of apples and crabapples at Olds School of Agriculture indicates that distinct progress is being made in the work of selecting tree fruits for the high altitudes of western central Alberta. It is not many years ago that the altitude of 1,000 feet, was considered growing of apples in Manitoba at an difficult and by many, impossible. Now a few orchards are producing on a commercial scale and many set out in recent years of varieties that have been tried and proven are coming into bearing.

In Central Alberta the difficulties to be surmounted are greater. The altitude is more than 3,400 feet, or over 2,000 feet higher than Manitoba, and the loss from winter killing is in consequence much greater.

Efforts have been made to grow tree fruits here for the past fifteen years. Many varieties have been tried and those which are now bearing are ones that have survived the winters for a number of years. Crabapples are more hardy than the varieties of standard apples so there are more crabs in fruit than those of standard size.

The hybrids originated years ago by Dr. Wm. Saunders, using the Siberian crab (Pyrus baccata) and various standard varieties, have done well, and some of these are of excellent quality, even if not large. Silvia is one of these. Others in fruit are: Dolga, Alexis and Rubin. These are small, but attractive in appearance and excellent for jellies. The standard crabapples, Transcendent and Hyslop, are both producing good crops this year, and the fruit is of good size.

The following standard apples are also producing: Hibernia, Paten's Greening, Chariot, Ostrakoff and Ananora. These varieties are all about two and a half to three inches in diameter and are of excellent cooking quality. They are not so good for eating as such varieties as McIntosh or Spy.

BALANCE IS MOST IMPORTANT

Balance is the most important thing in life and the most difficult to maintain. It is not easy to give judgment with an equal respect for each side of a question. Men are prone to become fanatics. Especially is this true in things relating to health. We become enthusiastic over anything that promises to be good for the body if it is commercialized and before we know it we become one of the great army of suckers.

There have been many attempts to make people conscious of their foolishness but to no avail. The results of careful laboratory experimentation are free to the public and expert treatment may be prescribed without making advertisements and commercial patents our idea of health.

One of our pet fads of late has been the teeth. A pain in the finger was enough excuse to have a tooth pulled any old time. We relied on the X-ray pictures to tell us the truth about poison absorption. Dr. Johnson in a frank discussion at the dental convention in Toronto, questioned the value of the X-ray, claiming that it did not definitely show if a root were diseased. He condemned the promiscuous pulling of teeth, declaring that most of them should have been saved.

What will be the result? The public will undoubtedly go to the other extreme. It will frown on the X-ray and become suspicious of the forceps. Again it will lose its definite place in dental surgery, it will condemn and argue until a new fad makes it forget.

Our lack of rationalism must try the patience of scientists.—Brampton Conservator.

THE HORSE COMES BACK

Horses are being used more extensively in harvesting in western Canada this year than for some years past. Low prices have forced farmers to cut down expenses in every possible way and the new fangled motor machinery has been replaced by the horses of earlier days.

Gasoline costs money and even farmers who have power machinery find it more practical to get horses in operation than to buy gasoline and fix up their motor equipment.

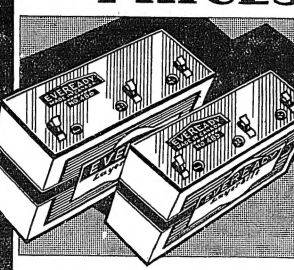

The relative merits of horse and motor power in farm operations have never been settled. Many successful farmers have steadily refused to install power harvesting equipment and they find confirmation of their views in the tendency to go back to the horse under pressure of hard times.

Whether the present situation indicates a permanent trend is another question. However, it is clear that machinery has been purchased this year but those farmers who have up-to-date power equipment and are not too sharply pressed for ready money prefer to continue using it and are doing so.

NINETY PER CENT COMEBACK STAGED BY SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, Sept. 17. — Saskatchewan has staged a 90 per cent comeback in one short year. There are a dozen different ways of figuring it, but they all give approximately the same result.

Last year one fourth of the people of the province required government assistance in the way of food, fuel, clothing, feed and fodder. This year and their relief requirements are the number is less than 4 per cent, comparatively light.

Last year the government had to find $18,000,000 for relief; this year $1,000,000 will be ample. This spring, $900,000 acres were seeded with wheat supplied by the government; next spring seed requirements will not exceed 100,000 bushels.

Good progress is being made on the work, it is stated by Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works, and the finish will come before the freeze-up.

MEMORIAL WINDOW

UNVEILED IN MEMORY
OF MR. J. F. FOWLER

On Sunday forenoon last, a very impressive service was conducted by Dr. Stacey McCall of Edmonton, when a beautiful memorial window was unveiled in the First United Church in memory of the late Mr. J. F. Fowler. The Doctor presented an excellent sermon and referred from time to time to the outstanding achievements of Mr. Fowler, who was vitally interested in civic and educational affairs.

having been a Mayor of Wetaskiwin for several terms, as well as being the energetic chairman of the Public School Board for many years. He was also a member of the executive of the Alberta College, Edmonton, and his opinion on educational matters were invariably correct. He had been a life long member of the Methodist Church, and had been a staunch supporter of the movement to unite the congregational, Presbyterian and Methodist denominations.

The installation of the window is a result of the efforts of Mrs. Paton's Sunday school class, which raised the necessary money to purchase the window.

BLIGHT IS DEFEATED

Norfolk, Sept. 21.—Rain and snow fell here from 4:30 Saturday afternoon until Monday morning. The moisture has put the soil in condition for fall plowing.

In regard to blight of caragana recently reported, T. L. Duncan has a hedge of about eight rods which was not doing well during the summer.

Thinking the trouble might be due to lack of nitrogen in the soil, he treated a portion with an ammonia solution. The plants so treated retained color and are still green while the balance of the row has lost most of its foliage since the last frost.

TRAVELING MAN ENDORSES ALL-BRAN

Says It Brought Relief From Constipation

"I want to take this unsolicited means to tell you what ALL-BRAN has done for me."

"I am on the road all the time, and this has a tendency to constipate me, or any one who travels all the time. I used to suffer a great deal from constipation, until some one told me about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since I have been eating this cereal, I have been cured of constipation. I heartily endorse it to any one suffering as I did."

Mr. B. F. Pollard. (Address on request.)

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN provides both. At the same time, it supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Being a natural corrective ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming.

How much better than risking pills and drugs—so often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation, serious cases, with every meal. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green packages. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

S. M. WESTVICK LIBERAL SELECTION IN CAMROSE

Camrose, Sept. 16.—Adopting the slogan, "It's Time for a Change," Liberals of the Camrose Constituency rallied in the Bailey Theatre here last night and after a close ballot, decided that Sivert M. Westvick, general merchant of New Norway, should carry the Liberal banner in the forthcoming by-election in this district, made necessary by the death of Hon. Vernon Smith, Minister of Railways and Telephones, who died suddenly near his home in Edmonton a few weeks ago.

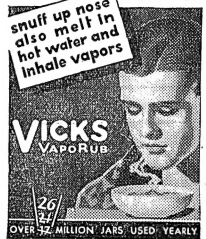

Hugh M. McAfee of Camrose, was also a popular man with many of the Liberals at the nominating convention, but he was defeated when the matter was put to a vote of the 119 delegates present from the 49 polls in the constituency.

W. R. Howson, M.L.A., Edmonton, was present along with other prominent men in provincial Liberal circles, including: Walter Campbell, president of the provincial Liberal Association, Edmonton; H. G. Tunnell, W. McAtthey, George Londa, and Cliff Purvis, Viking; A. L. Horton, Charles Gordon, William Clement and Neil Primrose, Vegreville, and others.

Mr. Howson charged that the provincial secretary in the present government was receiving a salary of $8,000 per year, free car, free gasoline, and other expenses, and declared that such a position was unknown in any other province of Canada or state of the United States.

GOV'T PREDICTS AVERAGE WHEAT YIELD 20 BUSHELS

Edmonton, Sept. 17.—Threshing of Alberta's wheat crop is now well under way and making rapid progress under generally favorable weather conditions, according to the fortnightly crop report of the provincial department of agriculture.

In Southern Alberta, where heavy rains during the past four weeks seriously retarded harvesting operations, the weather has become settled and cutting is now being completed and threshing is going forward.

In the remainder of the province cutting of grain is fairly well completed. In the central and northern parts of the province, owing to more favorable weather conditions, than those which prevailed in the south, all operations are more advanced.

After careful consideration of authoritative reports from all districts of the province, and checking of the yields revealed by the separators so far as is possible to date, the department of agriculture is of the opinion that the average yield of wheat over the province will be in the neighborhood of 20 bushels per acre.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics figure for the total wheat acreage of the province is 3,200,000 acres. There has been little damage to the grain from frost, but hot, dry weather caused reduction of yields in many districts.

The quality of wheat generally appears to be very good, particularly in Southern Alberta, where large percentages of No. 1 wheat are reported. The indications are that the bulk of the wheat will fall within the upper grades.

While the crop of oats in many areas is reported to be somewhat lighter than last year, most districts report the outlook for feed to be good, and pastures has been considerably helped by late rains. Livestock is reported to be in excellent condition.

In the sugar beet areas in Southern Alberta, an exceptionally good crop of beets is anticipated, one report stating that the yield will likely be the highest in the province's history.

The death of T. B. Skattebo occurred at this home in Camrose on Friday evening last after a lingering illness. The late Mr. Skattebo was born in Goodhue County, Minn., on February 4, 1858, and in his youth farmed at Posten, Minn. Nearly forty years ago he took homestead land in the district now known as New Norway, Canadian.

SIXTY-FOUR DISTRICTS ARE REPRESENTED AT CAMROSE NORMAL SCHOOL

An analysis of the Normal student list shows that sixty-four points in Central Alberta are represented. Camrose leads off with twenty-two students, nine in the first class and thirteen in the second class. Wetaskiwin falls into second place with eight students, six in the first and two in the second class. Castor, Innisfail, Tofield, Red Deer, Vermilion, and Sedgewick each have four representatives. Killam, Byamoor, Provost, Cadogan, Forestburg, Lacombe and Stettler have three representatives each. Fourteen points have two student representatives each and the rest have only one student from each post-office given. The first class has 45 members and the second class has 93 members. The total at present is, therefore, 138.—Canadian.

HUGE TELESCOPE FOR UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Details of the erection near Richmond Hill, north Toronto, of the second largest telescope in the world, at an estimated cost of $500,000, have been made public.

Officials of the University of Toronto to which Mrs. Jessie Dunlop is donating the David Dunlap Observatory in memory of her husband, announced that construction would start at once on the two main buildings of the plant.

On a circular platform, 800 feet above sea level, a round building 61 feet in diameter will be built to house the huge telescope, nearly all parts of which are being made in England. Larger than the one in the Dominion Government Observatory, Victoria, B.C. the telescope will be of the reflecting type and will have a mirror weighing 5,000 pounds.

The telescope building and an administration building to be erected at a cost of $125,000, will be located in the centre of a 177-acre plot which will be known as the David Dunlap Park.

AUSTRALIA LIFTS IMPORT BARRIERS

Ottawa, Sept. 17th.—Considerable benefit to Canadian trade with Australia is seen in the tariff amendments introduced in the commonwealth's budget on Friday, according to the Canadian trade commissioner at Melbourne, D. H. Ross. All prohibitions of imports are removed as from September 1, and a large number of Canadian commodities are affected thereby.

Other features of the tariff amendments include the lifting of the 50 per cent surtax on a list of items; the exemption of certain commodities in which Canada is interested; the reduction of the preferential tariff to 10 per cent ad valorem in some instances, and the raising of the "prime duty" of 4 per cent, or 6 per cent on goods which Canada supplies.

The most important feature of the budget, from a Canadian point of view is the removal of the prohibition on imports. This was imposed on April, 1930, for the purpose of correcting the abnormal adverse balance of trade.

WARN FIRMS AGAINST DELIVERING OWN BILLS

Winnipeg, September 17.—Reduction in revenue is causing concern to the postal department here and as a result business firms which are delivering their own bills are threatened with prosecution. The post office claims the "exclusive privilege of conveying, collecting and delivering letters," according to a notice sent out Friday by Thomas T. School Fair Is a Great Success

On account of threshing, the attendance at the Millet School Fair held on Friday last, was not as large as last year, neither were the exhibits as numerous. The quality was especially good, and the various exhibits, particularly in livestock and vegetables, was evidence that the district of Millet is one of the best in the Province. After the judging the children exhibited the awards, and crowded the different class rooms where the school work exhibits were on display.

About 1:30, a street parade took place in which the children of several schools participated. Their costumes were very attractive, and they marched through the streets of the village, many favorable comments were expressed. Returning to the grounds, each school demonstrated the physical training they are taking. This was followed by a program of athletic events, which were keenly contested, and for which small prizes were given. The winners of the races were:
